3 DEFENDANTS ARE INDICTED BY GRAND JURY

Three defendants were indicted and a charge against another defendant was ignored by the grand jury this morning.

The jury, headed by Foreman Kenneth R. Dengler, found "not a true bill" against William Rahn, Blue Ridge Summit, charged with involuntary manslaughter in connection with an accident November 10 near Zora, in which a passenger in Rahn's car, Armand Knecht, was fatally injured. The grand jury, in deciding that the Commonwealth did not have a case against Rahn, placed the costs of the case on the county.

True bills, which means their cases will be heard by a petit jury next week, were found against Bernard Arthur Rich, Raleigh, N. C., charged with drunken driving; Ralph E. Bechtel, Hanover, charged with drunken driving, and Frank Benjamin Sipes, Pittsburgh, charged with operating a car after his license was suspended.

Case Settled

Settlement of an assault and battery charge against Blaine Shindledecker, Fairfield R. 1, this morning, led to the dropping of that case upon payment of costs by Shindledecker. William Yingling, Gettysburg R. 4, charged with assault and battery, entered a plea of guilty to the charge this morning.

The 14 men and seven women comprising the grand jury continued their work this afternoon. Three members, of the original 24, were excused: Harland Staub, New Oxford; Miss Mary Genevieve Overbaugh, McSherrystown, and Robert Dellinger, New Oxford.

Serving on the jury are, in addition to Foreman Dengler, John Biesecker, Cashtown; Stanley D. Bowersox, Littlestown; Larkin Bucher, Gettysburg R. 3; Homer DeGroft, Littlestown; Mrs. Marie Ecker, Gettysburg R. D.; Wilber Geyer, Cashtown; Mrs. Marguerite Good, Gettysburg R. D.; Mrs. Jean Ann Hartzell, 44 East Lincoln avenue; Eugene Hilker, Littlestown R. 2; Mrs. Pauline King, York Springs R. 1; W. H. Leady, Biglerville; Barbara Legore, Hanover; Mrs. Mabel Leer, York Springs R. 1; Marshall Longenecker, Biglerville R. 1; Charles R. McDannell, Biglerville R. 2; C. F. Myers, Gettysburg R. 5; Russell H. Stoops, Gettysburg R. 2; Marlin Van Dyke, Biglerville R. D.; Roy Warren, Aspers; Mrs. Burton Wolff, Gettystysburg R. 3.

New Cadillac To Be Shown Here Tuesday

The new 1952 Cadillac will be on display Tuesday at the Glenn L. Bream show rooms, 100 Buford avenue. Sales Manager Paul R. Knox said today that he and his sales force will be on hand from 8:30 a.m. until 9 p.m. to welcome visitors and make demonstrations.

Mr. Bream said the "golden anniversary Cadillac" is "by far the finest car ever offered to the public." Numerous changes have "sharpened and smartened the exterior design while the wholly new interiors are a revelation in comfort and luxury," he said. "Its new 190 H.P. Cadillac engine has a power increase of almost 20 percent and is smoother and quieter in its operation.

"There is also a new hydra-matic drive that gives proper power for every need with gas-saving performance. If ever it can be said of a car's performance, design and comfort, that's its out of this world, it can truly be said of the new Golden Anniversary Cadillac," Mr. Bream declared.

Public Invited To Seminary Lectures

The first series of student-faculty lectures for the year at the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological seminary will be presented Wednesday at the seminary chapel by Dr. Harry V. Richardson, nationally-known preacher and lecturer who is president of Gammon Theological seminary in Atlanta, Ga.

The theme for the morning lecture at 10 o'clock will be "New Grounds for Faith" and at 2 p.m. he will speak on "Keys to Growth in Human Relations." The public is invited to both lectures.

Dr. Richardson received his A.B. degree at Western Reserve university and his S.T.B. degree at the Harvard Divinity school. Drew university gave him the degree of doctor of philosophy. He taught history at Tuskagee Institute and after a year was made chaplain of that school. He has been active in interracial work and his articles have appeared in national publications.

State Police Have Inflammable Sweater

One of the highly inflammable sweaters, about which nation-wide warnings have been issued in the last few days, has turned up in Adams county.

It has been turned over to state police of the Gettysburg substation by Glenn Hartlaub, McKnightstown, who purchased the sweater on a recent trip to New York city, police said.

A test showed the material burned easily, and state police plan to set fire to and burn the garment.

Charles Gantz, member of the Hanover fire police squad, reported that his friend, Harry Freed, of New Oxford had given him a sweater which he said he had purchased for a salesman near Hampton about a year ago.

LOWELL CROSS, SHAMOKIN, NEW IAMA PRESIDENT

Members of the Interstate Advertising Managers' association closed their 24th annual two-day meeting at the Hotel Gettysburg on Saturday by electing Lowell H. Cross, advertising manager of the Shamokin Record, as their new president; chose Atlantic City for their next meeting, and heard an address on "Newspaper Copy That Sells," by Prof. Norman C. Van Guilder, head of the advertising department of the school of journalism at West Virginia university, Morgantown.

Mr. Cross succeeds Lindsey E. Bierer, advertising manager of the Herald-Standard, Uniontown, Pa., in the presidency. Other officers elected were: Joseph J. Coupe, Asbury Park Press, vice president; Waldemar P. Wood, Coatesville Record, secretary; John T. Schofield, Evening News, Bridgeton, N. J., Holmes N. Nale, Altoona Mirror, Thomas F. Martin, Shenandoah Evening Herald, and W. H. Kreger, New Kensington, Pa., Dispatch, directors.

The next meeting of the association will be held May 23 and 24 at the Ritz-Carlton, in Atlantic City.

Delivers "Shop Talk"

Confining his address largely to "shop talk" for the advertising men, Prof. Van Guilder offered some criticism of advertising methods, showed how newspaper advertising benefits the entire community and "is one of the things which makes America great." He gave a number of suggestions for improving advertising service and in the better preparation of copy. He admonished the "ad men" to "stop selling space and sell advertising."

Declaring that his school of journalism gets its best students from Pennsylvania, Prof. Van Guilder urged that advertising men "presell" high school students on these courses, and suggested that a movie be made showing how the "ad man" works and what he accomplishes.

Great Advertising Medium

"You represent the greatest advertising medium ever devised," the speaker said. "Whether you continue to be the greatest depends on you. In recent years too many newspapers have employed space sellers, men of good personalities, backslappers. Now we are in a period which takes real selling."

Newspaper advertising should attract attention, arouse interest and create desire, Prof. Van Guilder said. "No advertisement can do a good job unless it is beleved. You must be truthful. Be specific. Use truth and moderation in advertising claims. The price of an article is important in an advertisement. Put the location of the store in the ad.

Robert C. Meckley, 24, of Abbottstown, suffered a fractured right leg at 8:05 o'clock Saturday night when he was struck by an automobile while walking on the Abbottstown-East Berlin road a mile north of Abbottstown, according to state police of the Gettysburg substation.

The car that struck him was operated by Harold E. Auchey, 38, of Abbottstown R. 1, police said. Auchey was driving south toward Abbottstown. Meckley was walking toward Abbottstown, on the left side of the highway, facing northbound traffic. Auchey struck the pedestrian when he passed another vehicle in front of him going in the same direction.

Meckley was taken to the office of Dr. Kenneth W. Ehrhart, New Oxford, by Auchey.

UNION SERVICES IN MAY, JUNE BEING PLANNED

Community union services, held here during June and July in recent years by the Protestant churches of the town, will be conducted during May and June this year, it was announced today following a meeting of the Gettysburg Ministerium Sunday evening.

The union services will begin May 4 and will continue through May and June. They will be held in the various churches of the town with the host churches having charge of the services.

Arrangements were made also for the union Good Friday service which will be held on the afternoon of that day in the Presbyterian church. The choirs of the town churches will join under the direction of Phillip McGuire, minister of music at the Presbyterian church, to present "The Crucifixion." This plan is a departure from other years when a guest speaker was brought here for the union service.

The Ministerium voted these contributions, representing offerings received at the Week of Prayer services: American Bible society, $53.04; China Relief, $44.46; Civic Nurse association, $47.38, and A.M.E. Zion church, $43.28.

Copies Of Map Of Covered Bridge To Be Available

Bacause of the many requests for additional copies of the large Adams county map showing the location of the 24 covered bridges in the county, The Gettysburg Times will print several hundred extra copies on enamel paper for the convenience of those interested.

Printing the large engraving on enamel paper makes it easier for readers to read the small road numbers when they wish to drive to the covered bridges than it does when printed on newsprint. Most of the readers said they knew where the bridges were located but wanted an extra print of the map to be kept with the story published New Year's Day and the subsequent articles accompanying the picture of the bridges.

Those wishing copies of the map showing the bridge locations are asked to notify The Times, preferably in writing. The prints will be available in about two weeks.

REV. HELD WILL LEAD CAMPAIGN FOR HEART FUND

Rev. Charles E. Held, vice president of the Adams County Heart association, will be campaign director of the 1952 Heart drive the quota of which has been set at $2,500. The county Heart campaign opens February 1 and continues throughout the month.

President C. A. Wills is gratified over letters he has received concerning the use of the hospital beds, oxygen nebulizers, beside commodes and other equipment purchased by the Heart association during the last year, and stored at various places in the county, for use of cardiac cases confined to their homes. The letters relate the convenience and comfort afforded by this equipment.

One Gettysburgian enclosed a check of $10 to the Heart fund as an expression of appreciation for the use of one of the beds.

Raised $2,500 Last Year

Nearly $2,600 was subscribed to the Heart association in the 1951 campaign of which $1,024, or 40 percent, was allocated to research work of the American Heart association.

Approximately $2,000 was expended for hospital beds, mattresses, oxygen nebulizers, bedside commodes and other equipment to facilitate the car of cardiac cases at home. This equipment was selected by a committee of doctors and is stored in various sections of the county so as to be easily available to all the people of the county.

A 16 mm. sound moving picture, "Guard Your Heart," has been purchased and has been exhibited to a number of gatherings and schools in the county by Rev. Held.

"So much progress has been made in the treatment of heart disease and in education for the prevention of cardiac trouble, it is practically certain that Adams county will easily meet its quota again in 1952," Rev. Held stated.

RULING TO BAN BOOST IN FEES TO JUSTICES

Justices of the peace elected throughout the state at the last election may not be able to enjoy the new schedule of fees passed by the state legislature at its last session.

At least that is the opinion of Attorney Eugene V. Bulleit, an opinion that has thus far forestalled a number of county justices of the peace from collecting the increased fees. Bulleit is county solicitor, and as such passes on the costs assessed by justices.

Some justices indicated today that they intend to seek an opinion from the attorney general or the courts. If the courts take the same attitude as shown by Mr. Bulleit, justices of the peace throughout the state who were elected at the last election and took office January 7 will have to wait six years without being able to increase their rates in accord with the new law.

Letter Cites Law

In a letter to one Adams county justice, Attorney Bulleit said: "You have asked me whether you may charge and receive the fees provided for in that law (the one signed January 7, providing for an increase in the compenstation to justices in certain kinds of actions).

"Section 13 of Article III of the Constitution of Pennsylvania provides that 'No law shall extend the term of any public officer, or increase or diminish his salary or emoluments, after his election or appointment.'"

"The amendment to the Statutory Construction act, approved August 24, 1951, provides that laws enacted after the first day of September of the year of the regular session or after the date specified in the law, shall become effective immediately upon final enactment (with some qualifications with which we are not presently concerned). Fees are emoluments. (Apple vs. County of Crawford, 150 Pa. 300).

Election Date Holds

"The date of the election of the public officer and not the date when he assumes his new office would seem to govern in connection with the Constitutional prohibition. (Cornman V. Hagginbotham 227 Pa. 549).

"Such a law is enacted on the date on which it is approved by the governor or the date on which

Local Mishaps Are Reported By Police

Automobiles operated by William Rudisill and Chester Lawrence, both of Gettysburg R. 3, collided on Carlisle street near Lincoln avenue, at 5:45 o'clock Sunday afternoon, according to a borough police report. Total damage was estimated at $10.

An automobile operated by Herbert H. Weibel, Jr., Allentown, struck the car of Frank J. Slonaker, 329 York street, at 1:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, police said.

According to police, Weibel, driving an automobile owned by the Allentown Call-Chronicle, was driving east on York street, when he struck the partly open door of the Slonaker automobile. Damage to Slonaker's car was estimated at $125 and to Weibel's car at $50.

Truman Sends Congress Huge Budget As "Price Of Peace"

Washington, Jan. 21 (AP)—President Truman today sent Congress an $85,444,000,000 spending budget, an unprecedented figure except in all-out war. He said it was "a heavy burden . . . the price of peace."

The lawmakers talking loudly of economy in this election year, the President outlined an 11 billion dollar expansion in armed forces spending to more than 51 billion, including a start on building the air force from 90 wings to 143.

And he gave notice, in a budget preview for reporters, that a new five to six billion dollar five-year expansion program for atomic energy facilities will go to Congress soon. This isn't included in his budget for the fiscal year starting July 1. Mr. Truman said, because it would be spent later—in connection with some fantastic weapons.

He said his foreign aid program, under especially heavy criticism, "is vital and indispensable . . . in the total fight for securty and peace." Mr. Truman called for expanding total aid from $6,868,000,000 this year to $10,844,000,000 next fiscal year, with military aid alone jumping from four to eight billion.

His budget, he said in his annual message, "is carefully planned to carry us a long way forward on the road to security." He warned there is grim evidence "the Kremlin would not hesitate to resort to war in order to gain its ends."

Mr. Truman said, without new taxes, his budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1 would plunge the government $14,446,000,000 further in the red. The deficit for the current fiscal year was an estimated $8,201,000,000.

Needs More Revenue

Then he repeated a call for about $4,600,000,000 "at the very least" in additional revenue—a call that apparently fell on deaf ears when he first urged more taxes last Wednesday in his economic report to Congress.

In today's message to Congress, the President didn't pitch his plea as strongly as he did last week nor did he specifically mention rate increases as he did in his economic report. He emphasized "loophole" plugging.

The President told reporters, however, he wants the same rates he asked last year when Congress cut his new tax program from 10 billion to about $5,400,000,000. This would mean approximately a five percent increase in personal income taxes, an increase in the normal corporation rate from 52 to 55 percent, and more excise (sales) taxes.

Other Highlights

Mr. Truman tacked onto his budget a reduced flock of "Fair Deal" measures, including a fair employment practices commission—anathema to many southerners — expanded Social Security benefits and federal aid to schools. He did not mention two controversial programs he plumped for futilely in his last budget—the Brannan plan of farm

SPONSORS FOR "POLIO" PARTY ARE ANNOUNCED

The first list of sponsors for the Adams County March of Dimes dance, to be held January 30 at the Hotel Gettysburg, was announced today by Mrs. Joseph E. Codori, York street, chairman of the annual fund campaign for the county's Infantile Paralysis organization.

This year the local chapter officials hope to exceed its goal of slightly over $6,000 of last year. Payments made to provide care for Adams countians who were victims of the disease last year and the previous year cost approximately $1,000 more than the county group received during its annual drives in those years. A balance from previous years permitted the county group to pay for the care, but the need for funds has increased because the demands during the past two years has about exhausted the local balance.

Motorists Donate

Mrs. Codori, carrying on as chairman of the drive from a bed in the Warner hospital, where she is confined with a broken arm and a badly sprained knee, suffered in a fall, urged motorists throughout the county to send in their donations as soon as possible. The more than 11,000 motorists in the county have been sent coin cards, and annually a large part of the county's polio fund comes from donations made by them. Coin containers, constructed to represent the "iron lungs" used to treat some polio patients, have been sent to the various schools in the county and are located in numerous business places.

Among those who have contributed $5 or more to become sponsors for the annual Infantile Paralysis dance are: Mr. and Mrs. M. T. DeTar, Attorney and Mrs. Raymond Topper, Mr. and Mrs. John Teeter, Gettysburg VFW, Richard and James Roy, Dr. and Mrs. Bruce N. Wolff, Dr. and Mrs. Roy Gifford, Mr. and Mrs. Blaine W. Hughes, State Senator and Mrs. Donald P. McPherson, Rice, Trew and Rice, Mr. and Mrs. Mares E. Sherman.

Other Sponsors

Philip R. Bikle, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn L. Bream, Dr. and Mrs. Henry W. A. Hanson, Gettysburg National bank, F and T Restaurant, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund W. Thomas, First National Bank of Gettysburg, Warren Chevrolet, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Bierer, Mr. and Mrs. William Jacobs, Mr. and Charles Jacobs, New Oxford Item, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Bender, Times and News Publishing company, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Codori, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Wolff, Dr. and Mrs. Fred Bryson, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. UN Admits Allies Bombed Red Truce Convoy But Claims Foe Violated Previous Agreement

Seoul, Korea, Jan. 21 (AP) — A United Nations raiding party swarmed up a Communist-held hill in western Korea two times early today then pulled back to the main U.N. line after being stopped cold by Red riflemen and mortar crews.

Eighth Army headquarters said the raiders backtracked part way down the hill northwest of Yonchon after running into intense small arms and mortar fire.

Allied artillery raked the Red positions, then the Allied infantrymen tried again. But the dug-in Communists hadn't been hurt.

Planes Are Grounded

Elsewhere, U.N. forces threw back light probing attacks by 15 Red soldiers west of Chorwon and south of Pyangyang on the western and central fronts.

Allied patrols surprised 30 to 40 Reds in Bunkers on the snow-swept eastern front, killing 24 and capturing seven.

Snow and low clouds grounded most warplanes. But Allied and Communist jets tangled over northwest Korea for the seventh straight day. Fifth Air Force headquarters said no hits were reported in the brief, five-minute battle.

Sunday two MIGS were shot down by American Sabre jets.

Munsan, Korea, Jan. 21 (AP)—The U.N. command said today Allied jets without meaning to may have attacked a Communist truce convoy on the Kaesong-Pyongyang highway Friday.

At the same time, the Allies accused the Reds of violating the agreement guaranteeing freedom from attack to one northbound and one southbound convoy daily.

These developments came as subcommittees working on a Korean armistice again reported no progress.

Convoy Badly Market

The U.N. acknowledged that four planes bombed and strafed a bridge and antiaircraft positions near where the Reds said a plainly marked convoy of two trucks and a jeep was hit.

Pilots who took part in the attack said they sighted no vehicles in the area, reported Marine Col. James C. Murray, U.N. staff officer who investigated.

Murray added that if the convoy were stopped or parked in shadows it might have escaped observation.

Vehicles Are Limited

He declared that if a Red truce convoy were in the attack zone, it apparently was in violation of the agreement permitting a limited number of vehicles to travel between the North Korean capital, Pyongyang, and Communist truce headquarters at Kaesong.

A properly marked southbound convoy of one jeep and one truck was sighted in the area three hours before the attack began, Murray said.

"Indiscriminate use of the authorized markings on vehicles using this main supply route or straggling of vehicles in convoy . . . will in great measure nullify our efforts to spare the vehicles serving your delegation from attack," Murray added.

Congregation Meets

The annual congregation meeting of St. Mary's Evangelical and Reformed church, Silver Run, held recently, it was unanimously voted to appoint a committee from the church consistory to investigate the feasibility of building or rebuilding the church school plant. Such plans were first begun 15 years ago and organizations have been engaged in raising funds for such a project since that time. The last major building operation of the congregation was finished shortly after 1890. Among the palns put forth for 1952 were the conducting of an evangelistic campaign in the Pentecost season and the reestablishment of a Daily Vacation Bible school in June.

The new pastor of the church, the Rev. Ray E. P. Abbott, who assumed his duties there in June, 1951, reported the following items of general interest: All apportionment and World Service obligations were met in full in 1951 and the overall expenditures increased 13 percent during the past year. A Youth Fellowship was organized during the year. Sixteen new members were added to the church roll during the year. The total enrollment of communicant members is 558. A motion was carried unanimously that communications be sent to the proper officials expressing the displeasure of the congregation with plans for an ambassador to the Vatican.

RULING TO BAN

it becomes a law without such approval. (In re Borough of Sharpsburg, 163 Pa. Super. 84: 60 A. 2d 557).

"Unless we are mistaken in the facts stated above, or unless there is something in the law to which you did not call my attention, which would change the situation, it is necessary for me to advise you that you would not be entitled to charge the fees provided for in said law which would increase the fees for the same service provided for in laws in force on November 6, 1951, said law having been enacted after your election."

Several Affected

The matter affects a number of justices of the peace, who took office January 7, including George W. Baker, Abbottstown; P. S. Orner, Arendtsville; Archie D. Himes, East Berlin; William L. Dentler, Franklin township; Robert P. Snyder, Gettysburg; Elton H. Myers, Huntington; F. Loy Lindaman, Littlestown; Cyril Weaver, McSherrystown; E. David Pitzer, Menallen; Claude S. Straley, New Oxford; Guy Albright, Reading, and possibly Elmer Haner, who has been appointed a justice of the peace in Biglerville. All of the justices were renamed to their offices with the exception of Himes, Weaver and Haner.

Copies of Mr. Bulleit's letter, containing his opinion, were filed in the office of the county clerk of the courts and in the county commissioner's office.

Some of the justices of the peace affected adversely by Mr. Bulleit's ruling were prevented four years ago from charging similarly increased costs then authorized by the Legislature because they came during their tenure of office, while other justices elected or re-elected since have been charging the higher rates for some time.

All justices are elected for six-year terms, but all terms do not expire in the same years, so that some justices are elected every two years at the municipal elections, and take office the following January.

Justices prohibited from taking advantages of increases in allowable costs four years ago, may now charge these higher rates, but not the new rates which became effective January 6, according to Mr. Bulleit's ruling.

In towns or townships having two justices, elected in different years, two sets of costs have been charged. The justice of the peace who comes up for re-election in 1954 or 1956 may not take advantage of the new rates. Under Bulleit's ruling neither may the justice whose commission is dated January 7, so equal rates will prevail for at least two years, when one of the justices, if re-elected, becomes eligible to charge higher fees.

New Fee Schedule

The new fee schedule costs chargable in motor code violations from $3.50 to $5. Other charges under the new law are: Summary convictions except motor code, $9; misdemeanors, $11; felonies, $15; landlord-tenant action, $15.

The new ones are flat charges, whereas heretofore, justices were allowed to charge for warrants, commitments, docket, transcripts, for hearings and discharges, among other things.

One effect of the new law is that justices will receive just as much if a defendant signs a guilty plea as he would if he forced the magistrate to go through all the other steps in a proceeding.

However, the maximum cost under the old law was usually $5.50 for summary cases other than motor code, and in another instance, landlord-tenant cases seldom averaged more than $5.

subsidies and national health insurance.

Overall, national security programs would take 76 cents out of every dollar, the President said—and non-defense spending would be slashed one billion dollars under the current year.

He called for 600 million dollars in appropriations for civilian defense, including construction of bomb shelters, and said continued refusal by Congress to provide it "could be a fatal gap in our security structure."

Other highlights were proposals to add 7,000 agents to the scandal-hit Bureau of Internal Revenue, extend GI benefits to Korean war veterans, increase funds for government-built defense housing more than ten times, boost postal rates by 500 million dollars, and start the long-proposed St. Lawrence seaway as a "strategic necessity."

BULLETINS

Washington, Jan. 21 (AP) — Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the House Armed Services committee introduced today a bill to authorize construction of the Navy's second nuclear-powered submarine.

The measure also includes authorization to build a second giant aircraft carrier — up to 60,000 tons — capable of berthing atom bomb-carrying aircraft. The bill would authorize construction and renovation costing approximately $1,-150,000,000.

Harrisburg, Jan. 21 (AP) — Gov. John S. Fine today vetoed a bill to permit retail liquor dealers to sell liquor by the bottle for off-premises consumption.

"We see nothing to be gained and much to be lost and for that reason the bill is not approved," the governor said in his veto message. The measure would have permitted sale of a maximum of one quart a person by taprooms after closing hours of state liquor stores.

Washington, Jan. 21 (AP)—Stanton Griffis resigned today as ambassador to Spain. President Truman accepted the resignation "with reluctance" and said it would be effective "on a date to be established later." An exchange of correspondence disclosed that the resignation was dated last December 17.

Washington, Jan. 21 (AP)—Secretary of State Acheson and John Foster Dulles today urged the Senate to ratify the Japanese peace treaty. Dulles said this must be done to keep Japan from becoming "a captive of communism."

Acheson and Dulles were the first witnesses to be called by the Senate Foreign Relations committee, holding hearings on the Japanese treaty and three other Pacific security pacts—with Japan, the Philippines and Australia and New Zealand.

Harrisburg, Jan. 21 (AP)—A bill to permit children to leave school at 14 years was vetoed today by Gov. John S. Fine. The Governer, in rejecting the measure, said if permitted to become law the bill "might also prove to be an opening wedge to demands to have children exempted from school attendance for other purposes."

Philadelphia, Jan. 21 (AP) — Sen. Edward Martin (R.-Pa.) said today he will fight any attempt to raise taxes beyond their present level. Speaking at the annual convention of the Pennsylvania Bakers association, Sen. Martin pledged himself to: "Fight against and vote against any attempt to raise taxes beyond their present level short of all out war."

Sen. Martin said taxes now take about one third of the people's earnings. This is the limit beyond which we cannot go without running into danger, he said.

Lehigh Surprises Bullet Cagers With 74-62 Triumph

After holding a 37-33 lead at half time, the Gettysburg college basketball team sagged in the final half to lose 74-62 in a surprise to Lehigh at Bethlehem Saturday night.

The Bullets were way off in their shooting, making good on but 25 of 83 shots from the floor. Lehigh was much more efficient with 34 of 78 tries. Coach "Hen" Bream's outfit turned in another excellent performance from the foul line with 12 conversions in 16 attempts.

Gettysburg took a 23-20 lead in the first quarter with each player contributing, Bob Pizolato landing seven points on a trio of goals and a foul. Lehigh was sparked by Gleckner who hit for nine tallies.

Pizolato, who took the scoring honors of the evening with 21 points, landed nine more points in the second period to enable the Bullets to hold a 37-33 lead at the half.

Engineers Take Lead

The Engineers rushed to the front in the third period when they successfully stopped Pizolato with one point while Staff looped five goals and a free toss for Lehigh. Hare netted two goals and Watson and Ketterman each one for Gettysburg during the round and at the close of the period Lehigh was in front 52-46.

Cahn, Malcom and Royster were the big guns for Lehigh in the final period as the Engineers pulled steadily away.

Gettysburg, now 6-3 for the season, will meet Lebanon Valley here Saturday night.

Services Today For Walter O. Briggs

Detroit, Jan. 21 (AP) — Funeral services were held here today for Walter O. Briggs, the fan who bought himself a baseball club and financed it into one of the finest.

The owner of the Detroit Tigers who saw his team win four American league pennants and two World Series succumbed Thursday to a kidney ailment at his Miami Beach, Fla., winter home. He was 74.

William Harridge, president of the American league, headed a baseball contingent for which 50 of the 1,200 seats in the Roman Catholic Cathedral of the Blessed Sacrament had been reserved as the Most Rev. Allen J. Babcock intoned a solemn requiem mass.

There too were the titans of the automotive industry for which he had made bodies since 1909. Through the Briggs Manufacturing company he amassed a fortune making auto bodies and bathroom and kitchen hardware. His firm owned nine plants, six in Detroit, one in Cleveland, O., one in Evansville, Ind., and one in Dagenham, England.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Jan. 21 (AP) — Mickey McConnell, who went from the top to the bottom in baseball (from the near-champion Dodgers to the little league, that this) argues that ball clubs do everything backwards. . . . Maybe Mickey's move was just proving it. . . . "When a ball club finds one of its farm managers is an exceptional teacher, it promotes him to a higher-classification club so it can pay him more salary," Mickey says. "What they ought to do is pay him more salary to stay down there in Class C or D and teach the kids to play ball." . . . McConnell, who saw a lot of the country as Dodger farm director under Branch Rickey, is appalled by the lack of instruction given to the minor league players who need it the most. . . . It isn't until they reach the top minors or even the big leagues that a lot of them learn things they should have been taught when they were just starting. . . . Mickey currently is working on a project that ma help correct that situation. . . . He's trying to set up a deal whereby about a dozen college coaches will spend their summers supervising little league instruction. . . . He almost completed arrangements during the college coaches convention but quit when he got involved in a debate on how to tag a runner sliding into a base. . . . Says Mickey: "Jake Kline of Notre Dame was sliding on the hotel carpet and Otto Vogel of Iowa was demonstrating how to make the tag. I walked out before everybody got busted up."

FIRE BRIGADE

Harry Mehre, who retired from football coaching into less trying businesses such as newspaper writing, radio and talking at football banquets, is one guy who believes coaches have it better than they did in his day. . . . When Harry's successor at Georgia, Wally Butts, absorbed a 48-6 schellacking from Georgia Tech last fall, the halftime score was 34-0. . . . "In my day," says Mehre, "if we had gone off the field at the half behind 34-0, there'd have been the fastest meeting of the athletic committee you'd ever seen. Georgia would have had a new head coach for the second half and I couldn't have gotten back into the park with a ticket."

MONDAY MATINEE

Looks like Ottawa will remain in the International league even without the Giant's support. Since deals to shift the club to Newark or Jersey City have fallen through, several Ottawa groups have shown interest in keeping the team in Canada. . . .

Harrisburg, Jan. 21 (AP)—James J. Davis, state commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, said today there is a "resurgence of religious belief and an awakening of political consciousness" among World War II veterans.

"World War II men and their wives are attending church in greater numbers and each is taking an increasing interest in community affairs," the Philadelphia attorney said after an 850-mile tour of more than 50 VFW posts.

YANKEES' PRO GRID FRANCHISE GOES TO DALLAS

By JOE REICHLER

New York, Jan. 21 (AP)—Giles Miller and a large roll of Texas textile money are scheduled to arrive in the east Thursday to complete the transfer of the New York Yanks' professional football franchise to Dallas.

The National Football league, meanwhile, cleaned up its other business—including a hold-the-line television policy—and left Commissioner Bert Bell to complete the $300,000 deal that takes radio producer Ted Collins out of the professional picture.

Collins had lost considerable money in the venture and wanted to sell.

Players Not Involved

Both Bell and Miller, the 32-year-old textile tycoon who heads a syndicate financing the pro venture in Dallas, acknowledged that settlement now is just a matter of routine.

The original schedule called for the deal to be wrapped up in New York but the pro executives concluded their business last night and Bell returned to Philadelphia headquarters.

Frank Fitzgerald, who is expected to be named general manager of the Dallas team, said he had been advised by Miller that there are no plans for selling or trading players on the roster. This includes the three negro players—Buddy Young, George Taliaferro and Sherman Howard.

Giants Cancel $175,000

Fitzgerald, son-in-law of Collins and general manager of the Yanks, said he and Miller will go to Philadelphia to finish details of the sale.

The league bought the Yanks from Collins for $100,000 and agreed to pay the New York baseball Yankees $200,000 for the remaining eight-year lease on use of Yankee stadium.

The rival football Giants cancelled—they said "with pleasure"—the $175,000 due them from the Yanks' invasion of their territorial rights.

Transacted Business

Before adjourning, the NFL also transacted the following business:

1. Decided to maintain its 1951 restricted television policy another year despite a pending anti-trust suit by the government.

2. Turned down the proposal, championed by the Chicago Bears' George Halas and Pittsburgh's Art Rooney, for a round robin schedule with every team playing every other team in the circuit.

3. Rejected Commissioner Bell's proposals for elimination of the extra-point and for sudden-death playoff of all tie games.

Bell announced the league planned to fight the pending television suit to the end. The suit recently was ordered to trial by a Philadelphia federal judge.

Hanover Here For Big Game Tuesday; GHS, Three Others Now In 1st Half Title Race

Four teams, including the Gettysburg high Warriors, have moved into the running for the first half title of the South Penn Basketball league as a result of the surprise victory gained by the Warriors over Chambersburg here Friday night.

Hanover high, now deadlocked for first place with Chambersburg comes here Tuesday night for a key game which is expected to draw a large crowd.

The Nighthawks, who used a unique 1-3-1 type of zone defense in winning at Mechanicsburg, could clinch the title with a victory over the Warriors and a victory over Chambersburg at Hanover on Friday night.

Coach Myers has a veteran team which is sparked by Soapy Hart, speedy and sharp-shooting forward.

GHS Needs 2 Wins

Gettysburg needs victories over Hanover and at Mechanicsburg Friday to gain a first place deadlock which would also require a Hanover win over Chambersburg.

The Warriors have shown twice recently they are potentially as strong as any team in the circuit but have also lapsed into one of the poorest from time to time.

When the team displays teamwork and scrap it is a tough opponent and might well throw the league into a mad scramble by jolting the Nighthawks.

Waynesboro may also step into the first half picture. The Tornado is currently tied with Gettysburg for third place and meets Shippensberg on the latter's court Tuesday and then entertains Carlisle at Waynesboro Friday.

The Hershey-Carlisle tilt at Carlisle Tuesday will have no effect on the first-half race. Chambersburg is expected to win handily when it is host to Mechanicsburg.

Coach George Forney is likely to use the same lineup that started against Chambersburg, including John Carter, Skinner, Fiscel, Bream and Hixon.

Can Clinch Title

The Gettysburg high reserves, lone unbeaten outfit in the jayvee division, can clinch the first-half title with a victory in Tuesday's preliminary game. Coach Ross Sachs' small, scrappy outfit has won five straight league victories and has a season mark of six wins in seven starts. Hanover has a 4-1 league record.

Harrisburg, Jan. 21 (AP)—Unbeaten Millersville continues to lead the basketball ratings of the Pennsylvania State Teachers' College Athletic conference released here last night.

None of the three top teams saw any action last week due to examinations at the end of the semester. Millersville defends its 10-point lead over Clarion Friday night against fourth-place Lock Haven.

York, Pa., Jan. 21 (AP)—The York franchise in the Eastern Professional Basketball league is moving to Ashland, Pa.

Spero Custis, owner of the franchise, said yesterday poor attendance prompted the decision to leave York. eH said the first game under the Ashland banner would be played there Saturday against Lancaster. York has been in first place in the league since the season began. Other members of the league are Lancaster, Sunbury, Williamsport, Pottsville and Reading.

Poisoning Case: The family of Mr. Samuel Little (carpenter) consisting of himself, two children and a hired help, were poisoned, on Monday evening last, by his wife putting Arsenic into the coffee of which the family partook, Mr. Little taking sick soon after Dr. Horner was called, when suspicion was immediately excited. Upon examination it was found that Mrs. Little had that day, by an artful device, gotten some Arsenic at the drug store of Mr. S. S. Forney. The proper remedies being at once applied, all the members of the family are now doing well. Mrs. Little herself partook lightly of the coffee and then left the house. She was found next day snugly secreted in an unoccupied bed in a neighboring dwelling, in which she had undoubtedly taken refuge the preceding evening. Mrs. Little's mind has been disorganized for some time. A year or more ago she attempted to kill her husband with an axe, and came near doing it then. She has been committed to the Almshouse for the present.—Star.

A Swindler: Our townsman, Col. J. H. McClellan, although usually on his guard, was "taken in" on Monday. A young man, named Jacob Keckler, hailing from Blair county, visited Gettysburg with a handsome sleigh, which he seemed anxious to sell. Meeting with Col. McClellan, a trade was finally effected, the Colonel giving Keckler $25 cash in the trade. A day or two after, an officer from Mount Holly made his appearance with a warrant for the arrest of Keckler, who had meanwhile disappeared. It seems that the scamp had hired the sleigh from Elias Johns, liveryman, in Mt. Holly. Mr. Johns satisfying Col. McClellan that the sleigh was his property, the latter promptly surrendered it, although minus his old sleigh and $25. The Col. will be glad to hear of Keckler's whereabouts.

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE CONCERT OF LITTLE THINGS

I look out upon a fascinating lace of tiny branches that are mothered by larger ones. Autumn has taken its toll. Now there is barness, and yet a beauty that only winter's reign can show. There is character to this lace-like formation. Only here and there is there a single leaf to remind one of the days of foliage and shade.

A few days ago across the earth beneath these trees was an ermine blanket of snow—billions and billions of exquisite snowflakes, formed in the sky by the Master Artist of the universe. There were tracks of footprints and those of dogs, happily romping about. In the springtime there will be the green grass, taking on new life, each blade a wonder entity in itself. And there will be dew drops and days of glistening rain and those bare branches will show little buds awakening from their long sleep—and then nature's most glorious celebration, in leaves and flowers and bird songs.

We must never miss this concert of little things that goes on all about us, for there is the lesson of continuity in all nature and all life. Said that poetic aviator, Antoine De Sain Exupery: "There is no buying the night flight with its hundred thousand stars, its serenity, its few hours of sovereignty."

A single smile in a great crowd may be more significant than the crowd itself! The first few years of a baby's life are one long procession of little things that the eyes of a mother never miss. The significance of our own lives is constantly being revealed in everything that we see, feel, express, or experience. In a very large measure our entire life may be said to celebrate a concert of little things.

The falling snowflakes or the millions of raindrops are but a concert of little things, but how they bless the earth—how important they are! A dog's tail wag and its friendly bark are little things, but they have great meaning. They are wrapped in love. And there is a spiritual content to most little things, no matter how they may be overlooked or neglected. As Exupery has also said, "It is this concert of little things that sustain us and constitute our compensation."

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Day's Work."

HOSPITAL INCIDENT

He didn't seem excited when I met him at the door
Of the hospital that morning;
didn't stay to walk the floor.
He was smiling, eyes a-twinkle,
and to lunch was on his way.
"We are going to have a baby!"
with delight I heard him say.

I confess that I was startled when the joyful news I learned,
For it seemed to me no father would appear so unconcerned.
Were I he I should have fretted
'til the travail time was through,
But he showed no sign of worry
as expectant fathers do.

He reached into his pocket and he gave me a cigar
With: "To share the celebration soon to be, the first you are."
"Well, good luck," said I at parting, and he smiled at me once more,
And I understood his calmness
when he said: "This one makes four."

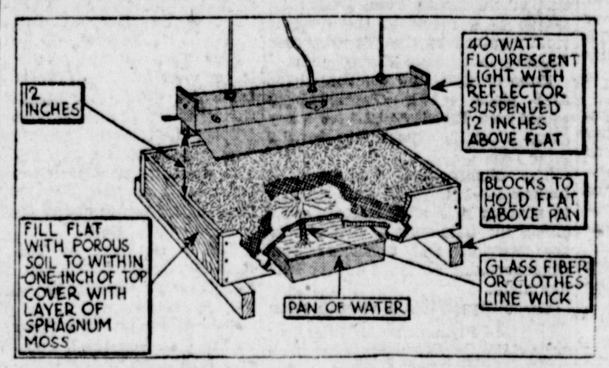
You Can Save Real Money By Starting Garden Plants



Inexpensive equipment will insure ample light and water to your plants, and protect them from disease.

Though winter is said to begin when the sun reaches its southern solstice, gardeners know that this is really the beginning of spring. Days grow longer as the sun starts north again; in ten short weeks the snowdrops may be in bloom.

This is little enough time to plan for your garden, and prepare to start seeds indoors. So much has been learned about starting seeds that no one need hestitate to undertake it, even though an ideal south window unshaded from the sun may not be available. New experiments in growing plants entirely under artificial light have taught lessons which the amateur may easily adopt to solve his problems.

Seedling plants can be started in a dark basement, without expensive equipment. On a table sheltered from drafts, where the temperature will average 60 degrees, place your seedboxes. The soil which fills them should be a mixture of sifted top soil, builders' sand and peat moss, one-third each. To prevent disease, sow the seeds in a layer of sphagnum moss half an inch thick, laid on top of the soil. Cover the seeds lightly, or not at all.

Instead of soil, you may fill the boxes with sphagnum moss, or vermiculite, but these are sterile substances, and you will have to supply plant food when your seedlings begin to grow.

Artificial light should be furnished the seedboxes as soon as the seeds sprout. Its intensity should be at a minimum of 50 to 100 foot candles, and it may come from either fluorescent lamps or ordinary tungsten lamps. You can measure the intensity by the following easy method, provided you have a photographic light meter. Place two thicknesses of white letter paper on the spot where your seedbox will stand. Hold a late model Weston meter above it, and measure the light which falls upon the paper, being careful not to cast a shadow from the meter. Multiply the meter reading by four, and you will have the foot candle measurement of the light on the paper. Adjust the lamps until the desired intensity is achieved, and by providing this illumination 12 hours a day, you will enable most seedling plants to thrive, so far as light is concerned.

If the light is inadequate for the crop you are growing, the seedling plants will grow tall and spindly, and the light must be increased.

Warmth, water and light are the three essentials for seedbox success. It may be easier to watch your boxes if you place them in the best available window. Here you can supplement the daylight with artificial light, measured the same way, to provide a minimum in all of 50 to 100 foot candles, 12 hours a day.

It may be that you have a south window which provides all the light needed; but that your seedling plants bend toward the light. You can straighten them out by turning the box around every day, but an easier way is to place a white cardboard back of the box, so that it reflects the sun upon the plants. This will keep them straight.

Plan what you expect to grow this year, and get your seed and boxes ready. It does not pay to waste seed on pasteboard boxes too small to develop vigorous plants. Get "flats" knock-down, approximately 14 x 20 inches, 2½ inches deep or larger, or use boxes of equal capacity you may have available. In these your plants will really have a chance to grow.

Because perennial phlox seldom comes true to parentage when plants are grown from seed, most successful growers recommend use of rooted nursery plants, root divisions from established clumps or root cuttings. But if plants are grown from seed, emphasis should be placed on buying strictly fresh seed and sowing it soon after it ripens in late summer.

Rooted nursery plants may be set out in late September and early October or as early in the spring as soil and weather conditions permit.

In most communities there are friendly neighbors who have vigorous old clumps of phlox who will gladly furnish divisions for beginners, or roots may be purchased from many nurseries and florists. Roots should be planted in early spring, each stem and root separated singly from the mass. Long roots should be cut back to six to eight inches and planted before they dry out.

It is easy to propagate additional phlox plants by lifting one-year-old roots in early November, shaking off the surplus soil, and cutting them into 2-inch lengths, with their upper ends plainly marked. These should be planted at once in narrow rows in a sunny, snug coldframe in a light sandy loam, covered firmly one-half inch deep with the upper end of each cutting up. Then the bed should be covered liberally with hay or loose straw and the sash put in place. Ventilation is needed on mild days all winter. Growth will start in March, after which the plants should be kept amply supplied with moisture without inviting soil sogginess. Even a few hours of excessive dryness after growth starts and before roots are well developed will prove fatal. Plants should be moved to their permanent growing place in June, with a cloudy day chosen for the transfer. Moisture should be liberally supplied over the first summer and early autumn.

Perennial phlox likes a deeply mellow, well drained loam in all-day sunshine. Weathered and pulverized cow manure gathered from a summer pasture is a welcome addition to the soil's supply of moisture-holding organic matter. It should be spaded under and worked through the soil to a depth of a foot or more several weeks in advance of planting time. No lime or wood ashes should be applied to phlox soils because the plant prefers neutral or slightly acid soils.

Crowded roots, exhausted or tiring fertility, lack of free air circulation, and too much shade are the chief causes of phlox failures. But what about mildew?

This widespread fungous trouble results mainly from lack of free air circulation and sunshine, usually as an aftermath of close planting. Thus, it is wise to set perennial phlox at least three feet apart each way. Clumps will require no division for four to six years under normal conditions. In the meantime they will bring deluges of beautiful bloom over a long flowering season every year.

The annual sort—Phloc drummondi—is easily grown from seed sown in the spring.

SUCCESS WITH PERENNIAL PHLOX

Perennial phlox occupies a prominent niche among hardy ornamentals in American gardens, not only because it has been among the leading favorite flowers for many decades, but because it is still one of the most attractive flowering perennials. However, despite this long place of preference and popularity, phlox is shunned by many persons who failed in their initial attempts to grow it. Therefore, cultural methods are here briefly reviewed for experienced growers with unsolved phlox problems as well as for beginners who desire cultural knowledge.

LOSES TRAILER ON TURNPIKE

Harrisburg, Jan 21 (AP)—A widespread search was on today for a truck semi-trailer, loaded with more than $50,000 worth of liquor and playing cards, which disappeared from the Pennsylvania turnpike.

Paul Eichelberger, York R. 7, reported the disappearance to state police late last night. He said he was the operator of the tractor which had been pulling the big red trailer.

Eichelberger explained to police that he parked the vehicle near the Harrisburg-West Interchange of the turnpike, just outside nearby New Cumberland, Saturday and drove the tractor to his home.

He said he returned to the turnpike yesterday afternoon and spent four hours searching for the trailer before reporting its loss.

Eichelberger said the cargo, consigned to Philadelphia by the Wilson Freight Lines, Cincinnati, O., contained 605 cases of whiskey and 178 cases of plastic playing cards. He placed its value at between $50,000 and $80,000.

State police sent a teletype message to surrounding states to be on the lookout for the trailer. They believe another tractor driver must have hooked on to the trailer and driven it away.

The report revealed the following facts: The membership includes 211 families and 731 souls; 29 baptisms and 9 marriage ceremonies performed during 1951; 108 pupils enrolled in the parochial school, 55 boys and 53 girls. The pastor also announced that next Sunday the annual members contributions for the society for the propagation of the faith will be received. All those who are now members will receive a communication by mail from the diocesan director of the society, Msgr. Joseph Schmidt.

Sunday morning in St. Aloysius church, Father Shanahan baptized Pamela Jo Hull, infant daughter of Conrad C. and Mary Louise Kress Hull, Maple avenue. The baptismal sponsors were George A. Kress, Jr., and Mrs. Patricia Kress Crouse, both of town, maternal uncle and aunt of the child.

Worthy President Claude Snyder, of Littlestown Aerio No. 2226, Fraternal of Eagles, has announced that six local aerie representatives will attend a special meeting of Eagles units on York on Wednesday. The meeting will be under the direction of Eagles Administrative Director M. L. Brown. Attending from the local aerie along with the president will be Lake A. Shanebrook, vice president; John A. Sentz, secretary; Harold Sparver, steering committee chairman; Herman G. Kaler, membership security chairman, and Harry C. Wildasin, aerie auditor.

Gife Announced

At Christ Reformed church the bulletin was presented by Mr. and Mrs. Clair E. Wildasin in memory of Mrs. John Sholl and brother, William. The board of trustees announced through its secretary, John M. Wisler, that it has received from Mrs. Laura Stansbury $25 for perpetual cemetery care in addition to the $100 already received for the Stansbury estate. The pastor, the Rev. G. Howard Koons, announced that the altar flowers were received from the funeral of Mrs. Grace I. Schildt, wife of Stewart E. Shildt, a member of Christ church, who died last Sunday, and was buried in the church cemetery on Wednesday. It was also announced that the catechetical class will meet at the church on Saturday afternoon, Jan. 26, at 1:30 o'clock.

Plans are nearly complete for a donkey basketball game on Thursday evening, January 31, in the Littlestown high school auditorium, for the benefit of the high school athletic fund. Members of the local Lions club and the Littlestown Junior Chamber of Commerce will comprise the competing teams. The probable starting lineup for the Jaycees will be Clyde W. Crouse, captain, Harold Harner, Lavere A. Breighner, Donald Z. Mann and Ray T. Horner. The starting representatives for the Lions club will be John D. Basehoar, George Maitland, Marvin F. Breighner, Chester S. Byers and Edgar A. Wolfe.

Receive Word Of Death

Chester E. Smith, 47, 137 East King street, was arrested Friday night by the Hanover police, who said he failed to stop for three stop signs on Third street, there. Smith now faces charges of disorderly conduct and operating a motor vehicle with a learner's permit when not a accompanied by a licensed driver. He was released when bond of $50 was posted for his appearance before Burgess Horace J. Stine this evening on the disorderly conduct charge. The arresting officers filed the other charge before Justice of the Peace George A. Lippy, who will issue the usual ten-day notice to appear for a hearing.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Bucher, of Woodsboro, Md., who formerly operated a restaurant in Littlestown, announced the birth of a seven-pound son on Saturday morning in the Frederick City hospital.

Word has been received in the community of the death of Linda Kindig, nine-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kindig, Brook, Ind., on January 11, in St. Elizabeth's hospital, Lafayette, where she had been a patient since January 5. The Kindigs have many relatives in and about the community.

Miss Bernice J. Currens, 47 Crouse Park, was admitted as a patient in the Temple University hospital, Philadelphia, on Friday, to await surgery.

SEE IMPORTANT POLITICAL TEST IN OREGON VOTE

Portland, Ore., Jan. 21 (AP)—Politically volatile Oregon appears headed today toward Truman-vs-MacArfauver and Eisenhower-vs. MacArthur presidential nomination races.

In a state where politics are so mixed up that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's name might appear on both Republican and Democratic ballots, puzzled Democratic leaders appear to be turning away from President Truman and toward Senator Kefauver (D.-Tenn.).

Monroe Sweetland, Democratic National committeemann, told a reporter that in the absence of word from Mr. Truman or Frank McKinney, Democratic National chairman, he is going ahead with plans to put a slate supporting the president in the field for the May 16 Oregon primary.

Called Pivotal State

At the same time, however, Sweetland said a slate of delegates for Kefauver for vice president also may be entered. He indicated that if Mr. Truman doesn't run, Kefauver may be the choice of Oregon organization Democrats for the presidency.

State Senator Jack Bain has announced he will file a Kefauver slate, no matter what the party leaders do. If Sweetland goes ahead with the Tuman slate, the two might contest in a primary where there seems to be plenty of Democratic doubt about the outcome.

Gov. Douglas McKay, head of a slate of Eisenhower delegates on the Republican ballot, told a reporter he thinks the general will win the primary contest here handily.

Oregon is looked upon as a pivotal state because Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York went on to win the GOP nomination in 1948 after defeating former Gov. Harold E. Stassen in a primary battle here that year.

MILHOLLAND AGAIN

Harrisburg, Jan. 21 (AP)—James Milholland, Pittsburgh, today began another term as president of the board of trustees of the Pennsylvania State college.

Milholland was re-elected at a board meeting here Saturday along with these other officers: George H. Deike, Pittsburgh, vice president; Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, college president, secretary, and S. K. Hostetter, State College, treasurer.

In 1946-49 American business spent nearly $67 billion on new plant and equipment.

Don Gehrmann Nips Fred Wilt Twice

Boston, Jan. 21 (AP) — Mile king Don Gehrmann rolled merrily along in his pre-Olympic campaign over the weekend by twice nipping rival Fred Wilt in a now-familiar pattern.

Both in Saturday night's Knights of Columbus meet and the Philadelphia Inquirer games 24 hours earlier the Milwaukee Flash's finishing kick caught Wilt in the home stretch.

The New York FBI-agent pushed Gehrmann to a 4:09.3 effort here while losing by a yard. In Philadelphia fleet Fred chased the ex-Wisconsin ace to a meet mark of 4:10.2, again winding up about a yard back.

Gehrmann's rally here earned him the Thomas J. Fitzgerald Memorial trophy as outstanding athlete in the view of writers covering the K of C affair. It was Gehrmann's 13th victory in 17 indoor and outdoor duels between the pair. Denis Johansson, the Finnish exchange student from Purdue, was fourth behind Villanova's Fred Dwyer in the Philadelphia mile and third here.

The sugar-producing island of Antigua in the West Indies has some of the finest beaches in the Western Hemisphere.

When Mean Colds Stuff You Up

It's so easy to relieve coughs and stuffiness of colds in a hurry this home-proved way . . . with 2 spoonfuls of Vicks VapoRub in a vaporizer or in a bowl of boiling water as directed in package.

Just breathe in the steam! Every single breath carries VapoRub's soothing medications deep into throat and large bronchial tubes. It medicates irritated membranes, helps restore normal breathing. For coughs or upper bronchial congestion there's nothing like using Vicks VapoRub in steam.

For continued relief always rub it on throat, chest and back. VICKS VAPORUB

For Outperforming all other American Cars...

In the Grinding Tests that Won it the Motor Trend Magazine Award, Chrysler proved itself the Best Engineered Car in America

CHRYSLER SURPASSED ALL OTHERS WHEN MOTOR TREND TESTED FOR:

★ Average Braking Distance in Feet
★ Ton Miles per Gallon
★ Average Acceleration in Seconds
★ Acceleration Over Standing ¼ Mile in Seconds
★ Average Top Speed in M.P.H.
★ Maximum Road Horsepower
★ Pounds per Road Horsepower
★ Maximum Torque in Lbs.-Ft.
★ Maximum Brake Mean Effective Pressure
★ First in Total Points

15 different American stock automobiles—equipped as you buy them—were driven by Motor Trend Magazine as hard as steel and rubber can be driven. In these actual road tests of efficiency and performance, measured by the most accurate instruments obtainable, Chrysler proved itself superior to all others. In 13 tests Chrysler was first in 7—tied in 2, making a total of 9 out of 13 . . . and first in total points!

Only by taking an engine to the limit of its potential, only by turning the corners at high speeds, applying brakes for emergency stops, torturing body, springs and shock absorbers, can you learn just what performance you can expect from the make of car you drive. Results of the Motor Trend tests were conclusive . . . as Chrysler, again, proved itself the one best car in America.

The Motor Trend Award, like the numerous other honors today's Chrysler has won, is both a proof of and a tribute to Chrysler's magnificent FirePower engine and master engineering. Each demonstrates why, among men and women who know automobiles . . . Chrysler is always the first choice.
